From the foot of the chimneys, to the source of the problem

We need to reduce our emissions and we know how to do it : we need to leave fossil fuels in the ground !

Leave oil behind

After the big circus in Copenhagen, 2010 is just another year of climate talks and green washing.

Act directly and collectively

Le Havre is not only the biggest oil port but also the largest industrial CO2 emitter in France.

Enough is enough, let's get together to build a climate action camp and take back the power by taking direct action. The fight for climate justice and the fight for social justice are one and the same.

Together, let's take back control of our lives and of our futures !

Let's bring down the capitalist system and build a sustainable world for all.

A Climate Action Camp is a self-organised, horizontal and non-commercial space.

It's time to radically change our way of life, to adopt sustainable daily practices, to share our knowledge and spread concrete alternatives.

Come and join us, the future is here !
